

Figure 7. The corners of this LP collar tore when the collar was being removed from an Angora goat. To avoid such damage, a knife or scissors can be used to free collar straps from hair or wool.

Figure 8. The rubber portion of this LP collar was poorly attached to the neck straps. Repairs can be made by sewing or stapling neck straps back in position. Only heavy thread or staples should be used.

Specimen Label
Not For Reproduction